Director's Message:

Thank you for taking the time to review our latest program guide. Our ultimate goal is to add to your quality of life. We operate a very diverse parks system that is complimented by an equally varied recreation program with numerous opportunities for participants of all ages. I challenge each of you to make time for yourself, and your families this year with some healthy recreational choices. Whether you simply go for a daily walk in one of our parks or sign up for participation in one or more of our recreation programs, the impact is sure to be positive.

Parks and recreation departments lead the nation in improving the health and wellness of communities. As stated in our mission statement, we “…plan, develop and maintain safe recreational facilities and programs for the health, pleasure and educational use of the community…” We’re proud of the 28 parks that we operate for your benefit. The variety of facilities within or near to those parks includes an award winning water-park, an Olympic sized ice rink, a Japanese Garden, a BMX track, outdoor exercise stations, two disk golf courses, an RC track, a museum & art center, a campground, multiple sports fields, paths and trails, an amphitheater and the usual amenities like playgrounds, picnic shelters, boat launches, tennis courts, restrooms, etc. As you review this program guide, you will discover program opportunities for “kids of all ages.”

It is our privilege to serve this community and the amazing people that call it home along with those who choose to visit here too. We strive for social equity as we believe that universal access to public parks and recreation is fundamental to all, not just a privilege for a few. Every day, our staff works hard to ensure all people have access to quality parks and recreation programs.

We welcome your feedback and input. If you have positive suggestions or ideas, please feel free to contact us. Let’s make this year a healthy one for everyone!

Debbie brings recognition to what might be a less familiar artistic medium. “Fine art scratchboard is nothing like the paper ‘scratchboard’ of our youth, although the basic subtractive technique of removing India ink with a sharp implement is similar. Working with clay board, India ink, colored inks and other means I would like to showcase what can be achieved with this wonderful medium while exploring one of my favorite subjects/themes – animals”. – Debbie Hughbanks

BOMBER BOYS: Portraits from the Front

Dates: June 14 - August 23, 2019
Opening Reception: June 14, 2019 - Friday
Time: 5:00 - 8:00 pm
Location: Museum Gallery, 401 S. Balsam St.
Adult Swim: Flower Pin
Opening Reception Speaker: Stephanie Lile

The Moses Lake Museum & Art Center is pleased to host Bomber Boys: Portraits from the Front, a new traveling exhibition available through Harbor History Museum’s Traveling Exhibition Service. Featuring a series of striking photographs reproduced from a secret stash of World War II images, ephemera, and a diary from 1945, the exhibit highlights the combat, captains, crew, and camp life of the 445th bomb squadron of the 12th Army Air Corps stationed mainly on Corsica and in Italy. “This amazing collection was found when my sister and I were cleaning out the hayloft of our horse barn in Gig Harbor, Washington,” says Stephanie Lile, exhibit curator. “Dad never talked much about the war and never seemed to want to, so finding the box of dusty old photos and a diary was a huge surprise.” Lile and her four siblings felt the collection was too special not to share. In fact, she has spent the last 10 years researching and cataloging the collection, an adventure that took her both to Italy and to Arizona to fly in an historic B-25.

Lile used the collection as inspiration for a young adult novel THE TAIL GUNNER, then she and her family decided to expand access to the collection by creating a traveling exhibition. Lile is a lecturer for Museum Studies at University of Washington Tacoma, and she saw an opportunity to use the collection and exhibit to involve her students in a real-world project. “The students did much of the background research on specific topics and people that was then transformed into various interpretive elements,” explains Lile. “The stories that have surfaced are amazing. One student discovered that Lor- ton Wellnitz, one of the bomber boys pictured in the exhibit, was not only an enlisted man and statistician, but an all-star pitcher around base.”

The exhibit features portraits of the “boys” who flew B-25 bombers in the Mediterranean theater. Some of them are known, like Wellnitz and Keith B. Lile - the tail gunner whose collection these images came from - many are not.

One of the curator’s hopes in presenting this exhibit is that as the show travels, people will recognize some of the men depicted. A handful of the men in the portraits were identified by notes on the original prints, but many remain a mystery.

An engaging combination of portraits, personal stories, and an introduction to the little known history of the 12th Army Air Corps, Bomber Boys invites visitors to see beyond the bravado and smiles to the question that plagued every airman, “How long will I live?” And some didn’t make it. In honor of all who served with the 445th squadron, the exhibit provides a complete list of officers and enlisted men, many of whom became prisoners of war or were killed in action. Additionally, visitors are invited to share their memories of bomber boys past and are challenged to piece together the stories of the men depicted through clues placed throughout the exhibit.

Far from your typical studio portraits, many of these images were snapshots taken during stand down on base. A very few show combat. Many were taken to mark a significant event such as a 50th or 100th mission, while others were meant to be shared with friends, family, and hometown newspapers.

Opening Reception Speaker

Operation Bingo! And the Real Story Behind the Men of Catch-22 with Stephanie Lile

Date: June 14, 2019 - Friday
Time: 7:00 pm
Location: Civic Center Auditorium, 401 S. Balsam St.

Join Bomber Boys curator Stephanie Lile (Executive Director of the Harbor History Museum in Gig Harbor), as she leads us through the extraordinary true story of the bomber boys tasked with preventing the transmission of power to the railway system over the Brenner Pass between Italy and Austria in 1944.

Lile is the curator of Bomber Boys and author of The Tail Gunner, a piece of contemporary young adult fiction about a teenage girl who finds a secret stash of World War II images from which the ghost of a World War II bomber boy emerges. Based in the remarkable true story of tail gunner Keith B. Lile and the 445th bomb squadron of the 12th Army Air Corps.

A book signing will be held before and after the program.
This class offers opportunities to learn art history facts, share art opinions, gain exposure to various art periods and artists, and make art. Our time together will be fun and experiential. We'll discuss, imitate (play games if interested, like "Stare" and "Masterpiece," etc.) and create art. We'll explore our creative process through mixed media. Learn from the masters and fellow classmates. Experiment with a variety of materials, creating a uniquely individual project or multiple projects depending on your ambition.

History has never been so fun... or so fast! Flying through the major points of America’s quest for independence, this fast-and-loose comedy plays like a highlight reel of history in hilarious fashion! Sorry, Hamilton’s busy in a different play, but you will both laugh and learn as you watch patriots such as George Washington, Paul Revere, Samuel and John Adams, Patrick Henry, and Benjamin Franklin battle the vain King George III and his British soldiers. From the Boston Tea Party to the Battle of Bunker Hill (Did you know it was really Breed Hill?!) to the crossing of the Delaware and onward to the British surrender at Yorktown, the historical meets the hysterical in this one act delight!

What will the camper need?
Campers will need to bring a lunch every day, a morning and afternoon snack, sunscreen and any other items they may need. They will need to provide their base costume of a solid BLACK t-shirt, BLACK pants, BLACK socks and BLACK shoes.

Sometimes Heroes: America’s Changing Relationship with Its Veterans With Jeb Wyman
Date: August 7, 2019 - Wednesday
Time: 3:00 pm
Location: Civic Center Auditorium, 401 S. Balsam St.
“Support our troops” is a common phrase, seen on lawn signs and bumper stickers across America. Veterans are welcomed home by enthusiastic crowds, and thousands of service organizations help veterans find jobs, secure housing, and heal from the experience of war.

But it wasn’t always this way. Veterans returning from Vietnam were often greeted by mobs accusing them of being “baby killers.” Veterans from Korea felt their war was forgotten and unknown. And veterans from World War I, destitute during the Great Depression, were treated like criminals by their government.
Why and how has America’s treatment of its veterans changed over time? How have the country’s citizens responded to the call of duty from one war to the next? This presentation examines America’s relationship to wars and veterans over the last century, and what shapes our current national consciousness towards veterans and the wars they fight in our name.

*Contains mature themes.

Jeb Wyman has been a faculty member for over twenty years at Seattle Central College. He has interviewed over seventy veterans for a collection of first-person accounts, What They Signed Up For: True Stories by Ordinary Soldiers. He is the academic director of the Clemente Course for Veterans at Antioch University, a program for veterans who study history, philosophy, art, and literature. Wyman lives in Seattle.

Wenatchee artist Chad Yenney will be displaying his dynamic mixed media collage works in Chasing Paper! Exploring imagery as a means to engage viewers through curiosity, Yenney turns a mirror on humanity encouraging us to explore the mystery and wonder of the unknown.

“This body of work consists of collage art sourced from vintage books and magazines. The subject matter sways from surreal to pop and some dreamland beyond our memories. With a nostalgic nod to a yesterday that never was, in a place that doesn’t exist. Delving into the human struggle to connect and beautiful wonder of the unknown. The desire to have the printed material inform the narrative, has me ever chasing paper.”-- Chad Yenney

Pickleball is accessible to a wider range of players than tennis; particularly children and seniors, because it is played on a smaller court and the speed of pickleball is slower than that of tennis. If you haven’t played before, we’ll teach you. If you have played, we’ll provide good competition!
